

Science@Johannesburg SLAM

9 October 2013
Sci-Bono Discovery Centre

Media Invitation

You are cordially invited to attend the first German – South African Science Slam held in South Africa at the Sci-Bono Discovery Centre in Johannesburg.

A Science Slam is an innovative and creative science communication format developed in Germany and based on the similar concept of a “Poetry Slam”. In practical terms, between four to six emerging researchers will have the opportunity to present their research topic in a manner so the audience is entertained while getting a better understanding of their respective field of research at the same time.

The inaugural event is one of the highlights within the “German Weeks 2013” and will be attended by dignitaries such as the Deputy Minister of Science and Technology, Mr. T.M. Masutha as well as the German Ambassador to South Africa, Dr. Horst Freitag.

Date: 9 October 2013

Time: 13:00 to 15:30 hrs

Venue: Sci-Bono Discovery Centre
Miriam Makeba str, Newtown, Johannesburg

Please RSVP before Friday 4 October 2013 to Francois Gerber on francoisg@sci-bono.co.za or contact 011 639 8400.
