GAUTENG IDC NGUNI CATTLE DEVELOPMENT TRUST

Conservation and breeding of indigenous cattle

INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE

The Gauteng IDC Nguni Cattle Development Trust ("the Trust") is a development oriented partnership of the Gauteng Department of Agriculture and Rural Development (GDARD), the Industrial Development Corporation (IDC) and the University of Pretoria (UP). The primary objective of the Trust is to re-introduce the Nguni Breed into the black farming communities in Gauteng, with the long term objective of developing an international niche market for producing Nguni cattle products by these communities.

The Trust wishes to invite interested individual farmers or farmer groups, meeting the criteria as set out below, to apply for participation in the Nguni Cattle Development Project ("the Project"). Successful applicants will each receive 30 (thirty) pregnant Nguni females and 1 (one) Nguni bull as a conditional loan from the Trust. One of the conditions will be that the loan needs to be repaid within a period of 5 (five) years. The loan shall be repaid within a period of five (5) years, by tendering a herd equivalent (in number and quality) to the initial herd received, or through payment of a sum of money equivalent to the value of a similar herd as at the date of repayment to the Trust.

Farmers selected for participation from the applications received, shall enter into a loan agreement with the Trust, which contract shall serve as an authentic legal record of rights and obligations between the Trust and the cattle recipient.
